Following Examples

We share Jesus' love with others when we live out his new commandment.

Directions: Think of some people who set a good example for how to live out Jesus' new commandment. In the spaces below, identify an appropriate person and write how you can follow his or her example.

Example:

My friend Joanie sets a good example by never yelling when she is upset. I can follow this example by always being patient and calm, even when it is difficult to do so.
